And Our Mission Was Critical

Students’ view of History BEFORE TAHP

- History and the past are one and the same thing
  - All Southerners were slave owners and all Northerners opposed slavery
- People in the past were dumb
  - Primary sources are better than secondary sources
Our Accomplishments

• Developed units & lessons for the Delaware Recommended Curriculum

• TAH resource centers in partnering school districts

• Last 3 DE History Teachers of the Year

AND…
National History Teacher of the Year!

Jill Szymanski

“I received this award largely as a result of my participation in the Teaching American History Freedom Project and the fact that I have tried to remain a lifelong learner.

My history instruction over the past three years has improved greatly and I attribute this growth to my work with the University of Delaware.

The project has given me the time and resources to make important changes in my classroom practices.”

Delaware Stars is expanding its reach across the state. A federally funded research program is enhancing efforts through the Professional Development Intervention in Early Language & Literacy appropriate for Family Child Care settings.

New Directions Early Head Start serves infants, toddlers and families. Embedded within NDEHS, the Starting At Home project is studying the impact of a parent-child intervention implemented during home visits.

The Professional Development System and Delaware Stars partner with the state to meet goals of the Early Learning Challenge grant.
The National Leadership Institute on Developmental Disabilities

- Since 2006: 23 week-long leaderships with 561 total participants
- Received a grant from the Ruderman Family Foundation to provide leadership Institutes to Jewish community service agencies
- Completed an 18-month disability leadership project in N.C. funded by North Carolina Council on Developmental Disabilities
- Received funding to research organizations run for and by people with disabilities
- Conducted our 2\textsuperscript{nd} grant-funded Leadership Institute for University Centers of Excellence on Developmental Disabilities
- Developed a plan for taking Leadership Institutes on the road – possibly 13 states and Canada
