2018 Steel Symposium
Friday, May 11, 2018
1:00 pm – 6:00 pm
Clayton Hall on UD’s Laird Campus
100 David Hollowell Dr.

- Steele Symposium Student Registration Form (due April 9, 2018, from every student participating in the Steele Symposium)
- Reception RSVP

The Steele Symposium is coordinated by the College of Education and Human Development and includes presentations by undergraduate and graduate students from the School of Education and the Department of Human Development and Family Studies. In recognition of the symposium’s roots in home economics and family and consumer sciences, students from the Fashion and Apparel Studies department and in the majors of Applied Nutrition, Dietetics, Nutritional Sciences and Nutrition are warmly invited to participate. In addition, faculty of the departments, as well as guests and community members, are enthusiastically welcome to attend and hear the student presentations.

The Symposium is a great opportunity for students to showcase their work for classes, research projects or toward their graduate degree. Students may elect to present papers or posters.

The reception is free and open to all, but we ask that you RSVP by May 4th.
Participant Details:

Program Requirement for Ph.D. in Education Students

Participation in the research symposium is required for Ph.D. in Education students. The focus of this research forum is to give you practice in professional conference style presentations, and also to give you an opportunity to share your work with other graduate student colleagues and faculty. Although there are exceptions, generally first-year students attend the event but are not required to present, though some first-years have made presentations in past years. Many second year students do a poster presentation, and most of the third and fourth year students do a paper presentation.

All Student Participants

The Steele Symposium is a wonderful chance to showcase your work as well as give you practice presenting to a professional audience. Please talk with your adviser or other faculty sponsor now and begin planning the presentation you will make.

If you are interested in knowing what presentations were made last year, the 2017 schedule is available.

For those giving presentations during the concurrent sessions, audience members will have the option to submit an evaluation using the Presenter Feedback Form. The feedback forms will be distributed at each session and will be collected at the end and given to the presenter. There is no need for presenters to print and bring them.

Submitting a Paper or Poster
We are grateful for the support of the Steele family and the ability to offer awards to recognize excellent student scholarship.

All presenters may submit their work for consideration for an award; however, this is not required.

Submissions for award consideration must be the original work of the student submitting the paper summary or poster. Co-authors may submit for award consideration, as long as the co-authors are UD students.

Papers or posters co-authored with faculty may not be submitted for award consideration.

Papers and posters that are being considered for awards will be judged by a faculty committee using a common rubric. (See the Poster Rubric and the Paper Rubric.) Papers and posters submitted for award consideration will be prepared by the CEHD Dean’s Office for blind review by the faculty committee.

Summaries of papers are to be submitted for award consideration

Students submitting papers for award consideration will not submit their entire original paper, but will instead submit a summary following these guidelines:

Submitting a Poster for Prize Consideration

All posters to be considered for prizes should be delivered to the CEHD Dean’s Office in 106 Alison Hall West by April 9. See below for size specifications and printing information.

Easels will be provided, along with a foam poster board to support your large paper poster. Most students have large format posters printed on paper and then roll them up for transport. At the event, you can unroll your poster and affix it to the cardboard poster board with the clips that will be provided. The size of the cardboard poster... board provided will be 36 x 48 inches. It would be an excellent idea to print your poster in a size that will fit onto a surface that is 36 x 48 inches.

Students are responsible for having their posters printed. Printing may be done on campus through Information Technologies or University Printing. Students can elect to have it done at an off-campus vendor as well. Printing a large format poster can take 24 hours (or perhaps more) so please plan accordingly.

Presentation Logistics:

Paper Presentations

- There will be eight different 20-minute sessions with up to five concurrent sessions in each time slot.
- Presenters should prepare a 15-minute talk and then allow five minutes for questions and answers.
- Presenters should plan to bring their own laptop or you may borrow one from us if you let us know in advance.
- Though internet connections are expected, presenters should have a reliable back-up of your presentation files.
Poster Session

The poster session will be about 60 minutes and everyone who is preparing a poster will be scheduled during this same session starting at 4:50 pm.

Please plan to arrive and have your poster set up by 4:40 pm.

Students who present posters stand next to their display and audience members circulate through the room and look at the posters and may ask questions or offer ideas.

Easels will be provided, along with a foam poster board to support your large paper poster. Most students have large format posters printed on paper and then roll them up for transport. At the event, you can unroll your poster and affix it to the cardboard poster board with the clips that will be provided. The size of the cardboard poster board provided will be 36 x 48 inches.
