

Guidelines for CEHD Graduate Students on Fellowship or Assistantship Contracts

Congratulations on your offer for an assistantship! Please read the following information carefully so that you'll be aware of policies related to your contract as a graduate assistant, research assistant, or teaching assistant. For conciseness the term "graduate assistant" is used for all three classifications of assistantships.

Minimum Credit Registration and Tuition Scholarship Coverage

While the University requires graduate assistants to be registered for a minimum of 6 graduate credits, the College of Education requires graduate assistants to be registered in a minimum of 9 graduate credits for the fall and spring semesters.

The tuition scholarship associated with assistantships offered by CEHD only covers fall and spring semesters and does not cover winter or summer sessions. It is university policy to bill graduate assistants for a minimum of 9 graduate credits per fall and spring semester, so if you are enrolled in fewer than 9 credits, you will be billed for the full 9 credits.

Hours of Service, Holidays, and Reporting Sites

Graduate assistants are required to provide an average of 20 hours of service per week, including winter session and spring break. As with any professional appointment, the amount of service may vary from week to week, but the average should be no more than 20 hours per week.

Under normal circumstances, students holding assistantships are expected to be at the assistantship site* except for times when University offices are officially closed or as noted on the contract form in the reporting hours section. (Note: there are periods when University offices are open but there are no classes scheduled, i.e., fall break and spring break, and the end of the term.) Winter session is considered a regular session and graduate and research assistants are required to perform their assistantship duties during the winter session time period if the contract has been written from 9/1 through 5/31.

However, when University offices are closed, graduate assistants are excused from their assistantship duties but should pro-rate their hours for that week. Graduate assistants should develop a holiday schedule with their assistantship supervisor.

As of this writing, the dates for Thanksgiving break have not been announced for 2020, but this example can be used for how to determine the appropriate number of hours of service. If the University is closed on Thursday and Friday, November 26-27, graduate assistants may pro-rate their hours that week and work 3/5 of their contracted hours, or 12 hours.

Schedules for additional University holidays should be adjusted in a similar manner, following the example above.

Graduate assistants will not be obligated to work when the University of Delaware is closed for the holiday break in December. The holiday break should be announced annually on the administrative calendar found at <http://events.udel.edu>.

Graduate assistants are required to work during UD's spring break, unless arrangements are made in advance with the assistantship supervisor. If a student is allowed to take off during spring break, the 20 hours should be made up at another time during the contract period.

 Special Note about Assistantship Sites due to COVID-19

As of 6/29/20, due to the unique and unprecedented challenges associated with the COVID-19 pandemic, UD is implementing this interim guidance, which applies to all UD employees (faculty, staff and student employees). As our knowledge of COVID-19 and related guidance from state and public health authorities continue to evolve, this guidance may change at any time as conditions and/or circumstances may warrant.

Employees may not return to campus unless specifically directed to do so by their supervisor or another authorized department. All campus operations that employees can carry out remotely should continue remotely for the foreseeable future. Exceptions will be made for essential employees who must be on campus to provide critical work functions.

CEHD graduate assistants should check for updated information at <https://www.udel.edu/home/coronavirus/return/> and communicate with their assistantship supervisor about plans to return to campus.

Absences

In the case of short-term illness or other unforeseen reasons that might cause a graduate assistant to miss work, graduate assistants are expected to communicate promptly with the supervisor and develop a plan for making up the hours missed.

In the case of a long-term illness or parental leave, students must communicate with his or her supervisor, consult the UD Graduate Catalog for Leave of Absence and Parental Accommodations procedures, and notify the CEHD Dean's Office.

No Other Employment Policy

Students who receive 100% of the minimum stipend and a 100% tuition scholarship may not hold additional employment on- or off-campus.

Dean's permission is required for any exception to this "no other employment policy" including the request to provide service for more than 20 hours per week on campus within the student's department or within another unit on campus such as the library, or food services. The Dean's recommendation must be sent in writing to the Graduate College for review and final decision. If an exception is approved, all forms processing additional pay for hours of service beyond the contract must be approved by the Graduate College. CEHD graduate students should address requests for exceptions to Christina Johnston, Assistant Dean for Graduate Student Services.

Maintaining Eligibility

Students are required to remain in good academic standing each semester (a 3.0 cumulative grade point average is required), meet expectations of the assistantship as assigned, and make satisfactory progress in his or her academic program as defined in the College policies.

An offer of continuation of the appointment is contingent upon satisfactory performance of assigned duties each semester, continued academic eligibility in each semester (minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00), compliance with the University's Code of Conduct, availability of funds, and stated policies of the program as to the number of semesters that a student is eligible to receive fellowships or assistantships.

Mid- and end-of-the-year performance evaluations should be conducted so the student has an opportunity to address performance issues, and funding in subsequent years is contingent on satisfactory performance of assistantship duties. The appointment is for the time period indicated on the contract form and the unit does not need to report non-renewal to the student.

Assistantship awards made by CEHD consist of both the stipend and a tuition scholarship. To remain eligible for assistantships, students must be available to report to work on the Newark campus or alternative reporting site, if indicated in the contract. Students should not expect to continue on assistantships if they move out of the commuting area or obtain full-time employment. Tuition-only scholarships are not typically awarded.

Grades of incomplete (I) revert to F grades if the required coursework is not successfully completed by the deadline the following semester and can potentially put assistantship eligibility in jeopardy. Please consult the Registrar's academic calendar for relevant dates.

Students who withdraw or are dismissed from the University during the time of the contract appointment will become responsible for the tuition in that semester.

Payroll

Students who meet the deadlines for providing materials during the Human Resources "onboarding" processes to become established in the UD payroll system will have the first paycheck directly deposited their designated bank account on September 15. The last paycheck will be on May 31. Semi-monthly payroll is deposited on the 15th and last day of the month. If the 15th or last day of the month falls on the weekend, payment is usually made the Friday prior. The schedule can be found on the UD Payroll Department website.

Federal and state taxes, if applicable, will be withheld from the stipend check.

Tuition scholarships are not taxed.

The assistantship contract does not provide for payment of the student fees that are charged by the University each semester unless so noted as part of the contract. Information about graduate student fees can be found at: http://www1.udel.edu/finaid/grad_rates.html.

Payroll Deduction

Students on assistantship contracts may elect to have fees deducted from their stipend through payroll deduction, rather than pay the balance at the beginning of the semester. For the current form go to: <http://grad.udel.edu/forms/> and select "Payroll Deduction" in the General forms category. Payroll deduction for UD parking permits is also possible and students should elect that payment option through the online parking permit process.

For Teaching Assistants with Teaching Obligations

Attendance at the Graduate Teaching Assistant (GTA) workshop is required for all first time GTAs. International GTAs must also attend the ELI ITA training program and meet the SPEAK/UDIA score requirements to be eligible for a GTA appointment.

Policy Exceptions or Questions

Any requests for exception to the policies stated must be presented in writing to Christina Johnston, Assistant Dean for Graduate Student Services, who will forward it to the Office of Graduate and Professional Education for consideration and action.
